MICHAEL GRAUVOGL graduated summa cum laude from Magnolia High School last May. He has played piano for twelve years and is currently studying with Michael Esch at the Michael P. Hammond Preparatory Program. Michael was a percussionist in the Magnolia High School Band and a bassist in the Magnolia Jazz Band. He is the staff pianist for his church. He uses his musical skills to entertain residents at local nursing homes, and he performs at various school and community functions. He has attended numerous piano camps including the Rice Piano Camp, the American Festival for the Arts Summer Piano Conservatory, and Sam Houston State University Piano Camp. Michael has been awarded medals in piano and percussion at the region and state levels of UIL (University Interscholastic League) and at various other competitions. This fall he will attend the Moores School of Music under Nancy Weems, and plans to receive a degree in piano performance.

Following the performance, everyone is invited to attend a reception in Room 1402.
